(XXVI^th Year.) THE (No. 1350.)

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1771.

TEMESWAER, April 18.

THE Ottoman Army is actually on its March towards the Enemy, and is 150,000 strong. Huffey Bey, Pacha of Romelia, commands the advanced Guard, which consists of a Body of 30,000 Men, as well Albanians as Bosniacs. The Grand Visir is advancing by the Way of Kirkel, with the Grand Army and the Artillery, which is very numerous. He has already traced out and fortified a Camp between Bazargic and Silistrie, from whence he intends to carry on his Operations against the Russians.

BERLIN, April 30. Last Sunday the different Regiments which compose this Garrison marched out of Town, and were exercised by his Prussian Majesty, in the Presence of the King of Sweden, and of his Brother Prince Frederick Adolphus, who both expressed great Admiration at the Celerity and Exactness with which the Troops performed their various Exercises and Evolutions.

LONDON,

May 7. When the next general Election takes Place, we are well informed, that the Condition of voting in Favour of a Candidate will be, that he gives a solemn Promise to promote a Bill for triennial Parliaments.

The Friends of Liberty are determined to exact this Test from every Man that claims their Vote and Interest.

May 9. Yesterday his Majesty went to the House of Peers, and being seated on the Throne, with the usual Ceremonies, the Usher of the Black Rod went and commanded the immediate Attendance of the House of Commons; who being come to the Bar with their Speaker, the Royal Assent was pronounced to the Lottery Bill, Sinking Fund Bill, the Gunpowder Bill, the Bill to incapacitate several Persons at New Shoreham, the Durham Yard Embanking Bill, the Bill to prevent the Counterfeiting Copper Coin, the Bill relating to controverted Elections, the Bill to prevent the Exportation of live Cattle, the Whale Fishery Bill, the St. Luke's paving Bill, to Fourteen other publick, and Ten private Bills; which being done, his Majesty made the following most gracious Speech to both Houses of Parliament.

"My Lords and Gentlemen,

"As the State of publick Business no longer requires your Attendance, I think it right, at this Season of the Year, to put an End to the present Session of Parliament.

"The Satisfaction I have obtained from his Catholick Majesty for the Injury I had received, together with the Proofs which the Courts of France and Spain have given me, by laying aside their Armaments, of their sincere Disposition to preserve the general Tranquility of Europe, have enabled me to reduce my Forces by Sea and Land. The Zeal with which you have exerted yourselves, upon the Apprehension of a Rupture with Spain, must convince the World of your affectionate Attachment to me, and of your constant Regard for the true Interests of your Country. On that Support I shall always rely for the Defence of my Honour, and for the Security of the Rights of my People.

"With Regard to the Troubles which still agitate some Parts of the Continent, my Endeavours have never been wanting to bring them to an End; and in those Endeavours, you may be assured, I shall persevere.

"Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

"It was with real Concern that I found myself called upon, by the Situation of publick Affairs, to ask of my faithful Commons more than ordinary Supplies for the Service of the current Year; and I cannot sufficiently thank you for the Unanimity, cheerfulness, and publick Spirit, with which they have been granted.

"My Lords and Gentlemen,

"While we acknowledge the Goodness of divine Providence in preserving us from those Calamities with which some Parts of Europe have been afflicted, let me exhort you to employ your best Endeavours, in your several Stations and Counties, to render the national Happiness complete, by discouraging and suppressing all groundless Suspicions and domestick Disturbances. I have no other Object, and I can have no other Interest, than to reign in the Hearts of a free and happy People: And it is my earnest Wish, that my Subjects may not be prevented, by any Mistakes or Animosities amongst themselves, from enjoying, in the fullest Extent, the Blessings of a mild and legal Government. The Support of our excellent Constitution is our common Duty and Interest: by that Standard I would wish my People to try all publick Principles and Professions, and to look upon those as their most dangerous Enemies, who, under any Pretence whatsoever, would persuade them to violate those Laws, and undermine that Authority, which the Constitution has provided for the Purpose of preserving the general Liberty and Happiness."

And the Lord Chancellor, by his Majesty's Command, prorogued the Parliament to Tuesday the 23d of July next.

A great Personage, when he was told of the Reversal of the Decree in Favour of Lord Chatham, observed, that it reflected Honour on Lord Camden to have his Decree confirmed by the unanimous Voice of the Judges.

We are informed, that as soon as News was carried to Hayes, that the Right Honourable the Earl of Chatham had carried his Cause in the House of Lords; every House was illuminated, and the Populace were entertained at his Lordship's Charge.

Yesterday Morning the Crown was privately sent for from the Tower to the House of Lords. At the same Time the Lord Mayor received a Letter from a Member of Parliament, that the House would rise that Day; whereupon his Lordship sent to the Mansion-House his Bed, Bedding, &c. in Two Hackney Coaches. Immediately Summonses were issued to all the Common Councilmen to meet at Guildhall, in Order to go from thence to the Tower. Orders were also sent to the Artillery Company, to be under Arms in the Artillery Ground at Twelve o'Clock, and to march to Tower-Hill. Notice was likewise sent to the Goldsmiths Company, the Livery of that Company having come to a Resolution to walk before the Lord Mayor to the Mansion-House. Tower-Hill, and all the Streets from the Tower to the Mansion-House, were covered with respectable Citizens, who strove to outvie each other in Plaudits; the Bells rang throughout London, and a general Joy prevailed; every Testimony that could be given of universal Approbation of the noble and spirited Conduct of the Two Magistrates was forcibly expressed: At Night the City was illuminated, and the Names of Crosby and Oliver re-echoed through every Street. It was remarkable that the Conduct of the House of Commons, who had taken every violent, every illegal Method, of punishing the Just, was as generally condemned and despised as that of the truly noble Duumvirate was applauded and rejoiced in.—— The one will be handed down to perpetual Infamy; the others, by a small temporary Confinement will deservedly meet with never ceasing Honour and Esteem.

No greater Proof can be given of the high Respect the Conduct of the Lord Mayor and Mr. Oliver is universally thought to merit, than that every Ward in London have addressed and thanked them, every County in the Kingdom is filled with Admiration, and every good and honest Individual adores and approves their Behaviour; on the contrary, Contempt, Abhorrence, and general Detestation attend on their Persecutors, who, setting Law, Justice, and Morality, at defiance, have, with gigantick Steps, waded through a Sea of Infamy and Violence.

The King of Prussia, unwilling to entail a War upon his Family, has, by a Treaty, agreed to give up Silesia to the Austrians, and he is in Return to have the Remainder of Prussia and the City of Dantzick. The Russians, upon Promise of not being molested in the War against the Turks, have acceded to the Treaty.

May 10. A Correspondent observes, that when he saw the sincere unbought Acclamations of the People on Wednesday from the Tower to the Mansion-House, and compared them with those of the purchased Shouts at the other End of the Town, he was shocked to reflect that the Ministry were reduced to the shameful Expedient of hiring a despicable Set of Wretches to huzza a great Personage, whom, but for their iniquitous Proceedings, every true Englishman would bless as he passed along.

At this Time several Ships of War are paying off, yet no Reduction is made in those Taxes which were levied for the Purpose of defraying the Extra-expences of the Marine.

As the Warrant of the Speaker is invalidated at the Expiration of a Session, it seems alone a full Proof of the Illegality of such Warrant!

We hear from good Authority, that his M——y wishes to have Lord Camden with Government, as he is now well assured the Loss of that great and good Man has been severely felt, not only in the Law Department, but likewise in the Cabinet.

May 11. A private Letter from Rotterdam, received by the last Mail, mentions the Arrival of the Earl of Bute in that City, on his Way to England; and that he proposed to come over in the next Packet. It is added, that his Lordship is extremely weak, is unable to stir out of his Apartments, and eats nothing but Milk and Vegetables.

A Correspondent observes, that the clamour made about a Mob being hired to huzza a great Personage, is not an unprecedented Measure, but was frequently done in both the late Reigns; and that the then Duke of Newcastle was well known to have hired and headed Mobs in Behalf of those Monarchs on several Occasions.

Extract of a Letter from Vienna, April 27.

"A Report prevails here, that the Emperor had declared to the foreign Ministers, that he cannot look with an indifferent Eye on the great Advantages which the Russians have gained over the Ottomans; and that he is resolved to make Use of his Forces to oppose the Passage of the Former over the Danube, should they attempt it to augment their Conquests; that in Consequence he has sent Prince Lobkowitz to Petersburgh to inform the Empress of this Resolution; and that if her Answer, which is expected the 10th of next Month, should not be conformable to his Expectation, he will immediately Order his Troops to prevent the Russians from passing the Danube.

Yesterday Admiral Montague set out for Portsmouth, to take the Command of the Fleet destined for North-America, which is to consist of One and Twenty Sail.

A Letter from Copenhagen says, "Our King gains upon the Hearts of his People approaching to Adoration. His whole Study seems bent towards making them a great and happy Nation. He seems to bid fair to realize the Idea of a Patriot King. As Princes are but a Sort of Trustees for the People, and are possessed of the Means to make them happy, it is Matter of Wonder that so few should have the Inclination."

May 13. Lord Chatham, towards the Conclusion of his Speech on Wednesday se'nnight, in the House of Lords, on his Motion for a Dissolution of Parliament, said, "that though no Man prided himself more on his Attachments to his native Country, the Proceedings of those People who called themselves its Governors, had rendered it so disagreeable to him, that was he but Ten Years younger, he would spend the Remainder of his Days in a Country (meaning America) which had already given such Earnests of its independent Spirit; nor should my advanced Age (continued that spirited Nobleman) even now prevent me, did not Considerations of the last Consequence (my bodily Infirmities) interfere."

The same Nobleman speaking of the Shoreham Election, said, "he hoped, that that Borough, which had been so long the Property of Bengal and Indostan, would be at last found to belong to the County of Sussex."

To the Printer of the PUBLICK ADVERTISER.

SIR,

I Have carefully attended to the Dispute between Mr. Wilkes and his Antagonists concerning the Office of Sheriff, which I think may be reduced to the following Conversation.

Mr. Wilkes. It is my Resolution, Mr. Oliver, to serve the Office of Sheriff with you next Year; and I tell you so this Day the 9th of April.

Mr. Oliver. Sir, I will not serve it with you; because our political Aims are very different; and you know there are many other strong Reasons, both publick and private, against it; and I tell you so this Day the 11th of April.

Mr. Wilkes. My Common-Council have persuaded me on the 11th of April in the Evening, to serve the Office of Sheriff; so you see it is not an original Measure of mine (though I determined it long ago) but the Sense of the Livery.

Mr. Horne. Sir, as this Question so materially affects the Freeholders of Middlesex, you shou'd surely have known their Sentiments before you had published your Resolution.

Mr. Wilkes. Sir, I never had a Thought about it till I had taken the Sense of the County of Middlesex, and of my respectable Friends; and as a Proof of it, I must tell you that on the 23d of April (which is near above a Fortnight after I published my Resolution) my enlightened Friend Sir Joseph Mawbey put the Question in Form to the Antigallicans, who gave their Approbation.

Mr. Horne. Sir, the Meeting of the Antigallicans is not a Meeting of the Freeholders; nor had the Freeholders any Notice of your Intention to put such a Question. You had a better Method to have known their Opinions: If you had kept your Promise of returning personally to each Freeholder your Thanks, you might have asked them individually.

Mr. Wilkes. Sir, I was prevented by the Dog Star.

Mr. Horne. The Dog Star! why last Summer was the coolest we have had in England many Years: And it was not hotter in the County of Middlesex than in the Counties of Kent and Sussex; nor did the Dog-Star rage more in Staines, Uxbridge, Twickenham, Brentford, Poplar, Limehouse and the Neighbourhood of London; than in Margate, Tunbridge, Brightthelmstone, Canterbury, &c. where you were running about with your French Servants, and borrowing Money for their Support. Besides you came out of the King's-Bench in April 1770, and it is now May 1771. Does the Dog-Star rage all the Year round in Middlesex?

Mr. Wilkes. Sir, if the Dog Star does not satisfy you, I shall give you no other Answer.

Mr. Horne. But the French Servants. Will the Dog-Star justify your squandering the generous Subscriptions of Englishmen on a Set of French Servants?

Mr. Wilkes. Sir, they ought to be supported by all good Patriots; for they had the Honour of serving an Englishman in Exile.

Mr. Horne. Exile! You mean when you fled like a Coward from the Laws of your Country. But, Sir, it is not possible to furnish you with Money sufficient to support all the French who may have had the Honour to serve you in Exile. But you know that the French Valet de Chambre you brought over with you, quitted you as soon as you came into Prison, for chuſing the Honour of ſerving you there. What is become of the honeſt faithful Engliſhman who had the Honour of ſerving you in Priſon? You felt no Qualms at diſcharging him whilſt you retained your Frenchman.

Mr. Wilkes. Sir, all this proceeds from Malice. There is a Set of you that have determined my Ruin. To avoid Suſpicion, and to ruin me the more effectually, you have ſtruggled to get me returned Four Times Member for Middleſex, and Twice Alderman of London; you have procured me a Thouſand Pounds; you have paid my Fines of a Thouſand Pounds; you have paid Two Thouſand Pounds of my Election Expences; you have diſcharged above Twenty Thouſand Pounds of my Debts; you offered to get me an Annuity of 600l. a Year; you permitted me to pocket the 4000l. of Lord Halifax's Damages. All this was done to ruin me. There is a Gang of you the moſt atheiſtical, profligate, prodigal Fellows in the World, who have conſpired againſt me from Envy to my Virtue and Character. There is Lord Chatham who reſigned the Privy-Seal; Lord Camden who gave up Twenty Thouſand a Year; Lord Shelburne who refuſed to continue Secretary of State; Mr. Dunning who threw up the Solicitor Generalſhip; Mr. Townſend who declined his Father's Contract of 1200l. a Year, and quitted the Situation of a Country Gentleman to become Alderman and Sheriff at the Expence of 1800l. Mr. Sawbridge who has declined no Labour nor Expence; Mr. Oliver who is in the Tower; Sir Robert Bernard; Mr. Bellas; Mr. Lovell who by advancing 300l. and by giving an unlimited Security concealed my Robbery of the Foundling Hoſpital; Mr. Tooke who covered my Fraud upon the Paris Jeweller by diſcharging the Debt; Mr. Serjeant Glynn who pleaded my Cauſe when every other Serjeant in the Common Pleas refuſed it; Mr. Macleane who ſaved me from a French Jail by paying down for me 1200l. at Paris; Mr. Fitzherbert who procured a Penſion for me of One Shilling in the Pound out of the Salaries of the Rockingham Miniſtry; Mr. ——— who after contributing his Money and doing me the moſt eſſential Services, would not let me lay with his Wife; the late Society of the Bill of Rights; the Great Mogul and Prieſter John, Edridge who run the Skewer through my Gizzard; and the Princeſs Dowager of Wales:—All theſe under the Influence of the beggarly Parſon of Brentford have entered into a formal written Agreement, of which the Original is in my own Poſſeſſion, to deſtroy my Popularity and prevent thoſe great Schemes of national Liberty, which I John Wilkes with my only ſteady Friends, Mr. Croſby, Sir Joſeph Mawbey and Mr. Adair, have laid down for the People of England.

Mr. Horne. Sir,

If only to come in theſe Men went out,
They ſurely took the longeſt Way about.

But you cannot wonder at my Influence over theſe People when you conſider the large Penſions I allow them out of my Living; and when you conſider the enormous Sums which have flowed into my Exchequer from my Publications, the Subſcriptions to Mr. Glynn's Election, and Sir Joſeph's Three Bank Notes which have been equally diſtributed amongſt my Creatures.—But you may ſay if you are Sheriff and Mr. Luttrell ſhould vacate his Seat, you will not make any Return to the Writ for a new Election. How will you avoid the Perjury ariſing from the Two Oaths you muſt take? And how will you eſcape the Penalties inflicted by the Statutes of 8 Hen. 6. and 23 Hen. 6? How will you prevent the Writ from being executed by the Coroner on your Refuſal?

Mr. Wilkes. Are not you aſhamed to falſify an Oath? Yes, Sir, I ſay falſify an Oath. I am to take only one of the Oaths. The Sheriff of London does not take the Oath you have quoted, though the other Sheriffs of England do. In the Oath I take there is no mention made of Returns. There, Sir, I give you a printed Copy of it ſigned by Sir James Hodges, Knight.

Mr. Horne. One Perjury is ſtill Perjury. The Copy of the Oath which you have given, has theſe Words—"ye ſhall well and lawfully keep the Shires of London and Middleſex, and th' Offices that to the ſame Shires pertayne to be done well and lawfully ye ſhall doe after your Witt and Power."—Is it an Office pertaining to the Shire of Middleſex to make a Return to a Writ of Election? If it is, and you take this Oath with a Reſolution to make no Return, you are perjured in the very Moment of taking it.

Mr. Wilkes. But ſuppoſe I endorſe all my Reaſons on the Back of the Writ?

Mr. Horne. Tell the County of Middleſex what you mean to do; and then they will be able to judge; but whilſt you ſhift in this Manner from no Return to what you call a Special Return, the County cannot judge of the Propriety of an uncertain Meaſure. You have been wiſe to talk no more about the Freeholders' Book, and packing of Juries: You have done well to make no Anſwer to the Objections drawn from the Penalties inflicted by Statutes for making no Return or an inſufficient Return. But let me deſire you to explain one ſtrange Thing. If you think it proper to pay no Regard to a Writ of Election, becauſe you are the Repreſentative of Middleſex; why do you pay Obedience to other Writs? Why do you give Bail (which you have done) when you are arreſted? Why do you not plead Privilege as Repreſentative of the County of Middleſex? Why do you thus give up the Privilege of Parliament and of the People?

Mr. Wilkes. I will never again ſay you cannot laugh: I perceive you are laughing at me now; and I will not anſwer your jeſuitical Queſtions, leſt every one elſe ſhould laugh with you. What Buſineſs have you with theſe Things? you are an Atheiſt, and therefore ought to go and chriſten the Children and take Care of the Souls of your Parish.

CHARLES-TOWN, (S. Carolina,) June 6.

The uncommon Quantity of Rain that has fallen during the Courſe of the laſt Month, which is uſually a dry one, has done incredible Damage almoſt throughout the Province, but more eſpecially to the Plantations upon the freſh Water River Swamps, where the Freſhes have riſen from Fifteen to more than Thirty Feet in Twenty-four Hours, totally deſtroyed the whole Crops of a great Number of induſtrious poor (as well as rich) Inhabitants, drowned a great Quantity of Cattle and Hogs, and put many People to the greateſt Difficulties imaginable to ſave their Lives, upon the Tops of their Houſes, Trees and little Ridges of high Land: In ſhort, the Accounts from all Quarters are very melancholy. The firſt Cutting of Indigo is entirely gone; Hemp has ſuffered much; and more than a Third of the Crop of Rice and Corn is thought to be loſt. The principal Sufferers are on the Congaree, Santee, Pedee, Wateree, and Savannah Rivers. Many Planters in Georgia are alſo likely to ſuſtain great Loſſes by the late wet Weather.—Theſe Accounts have occaſioned the Riſe of the Price of Rice to 3l. per Hundred, and of Corn to Twenty Shillings per Buſhel; and 'tis to be hoped, 'twill prevent the further Exportation of the latter Grain.

June 17. About the middle of laſt Month, a Party of Creek Indians going to War, met a Party of Choctaws on the ſame Errand: A Battle enſued, in which Nine Creeks were killed, and it is ſaid not more than Two or Three Choctaws. Some Weeks before the Skirmiſh abovementioned, a Party of Creeks from the Alibama Fort, fell in with a Party of Choctaws, Three of whom they killed, and took One Man and Three Women Priſoners; a few Days after their Return home they burnt the Man in the Tuſkeegui Town, the Women they keep as Slaves. All the Appearances of a Peace between the Creeks and Choctaws are vaniſhed.

NEW-YORK, July 15.

On Monday laſt, in the Sloop Sukey, Capt. Yarborough, in Five Days from North-Carolina, his Excellency William Tryon, Eſq; our newly appointed Governor, with his Lady and Daughter, arrived at the Narrows about Three o'Clock in the Morning, and between Twelve and One came up to Town, where at his Landing he was welcomed by a Salute of Fifteen Guns from the Fort, to which he was conducted by the Gentlemen of the Council, and others, who waited his Landing.

On Tueſday the Gentlemen of his Majeſty's Council aſſembled at the Fort, where his Excellency's Commiſſion was read, and the Oaths of Office adminiſtered, after which, attended by the Mayor and Corporation, the Sheriff and other Officers of the City, with many other Gentlemen, they marched in Proceſſion to the City Hall, where his Commiſſion was publiſhed, and after the cuſtomary Formalities, his Excellency, with the Gentlemen of the Council, returned to the Fort, where an elegant Dinner was provided. At Night the City was illuminated.

We hear that Col. Joſiah Martin, now in this City, who ſucceeds to the Government of North-Carolina, will this Week depart for that Place, in the ſame Veſſel in which his Excellency our Governor lately arrived from thence.
